

RUNNING OUT OF CONVERSATION WITH FAMILY AND FRIENDS?

Check out these seven helpful questions to get some great chat started!

1. Which bit of British weather do you most hate and why?

2. What's your favourite type of onion?

3. If a squid had a fight with an octopus, which would win?

4. If the white bit of a cooked egg is still runny, do you feel weird about eating it?

5. When you were young, who were you most afraid of: dustbin men or dinner ladies?

6. Are you hoping to be a wizard in later life?

7. Have you added your name to the organ donor register?

TODAY, ONLY A THIRD OF BRITONS ARE REGISTERED ORGAN DONORS.

So, consider this: if everyone in the country is on the organ donation register then we'd all have a chance of benefiting, right?

IT ONLY TAKES TWO MINUTES TO SIGN-UP AS AN ORGAN DONOR.

Then, by speaking to family and friends, you can share your decision and inspire others to sign-up too.

To find out more about organ donation and how it can help, along with links to the national organ donation register, visit the Live Life Give Life website.

live life
give life

LiveLifeGiveLife.org.uk

